NATIONAL CENTERS AT THE INSTITUTE FOR COMMUNITY INCLUSION

The UNIVERSITY CENTER FOR EXCELLENCE IN DEVELOPMENTAL DISABILITIES brings university and clinical expertise into the community and provides interdisciplinary training for professionals as well as assessment and individual services for people with disabilities.

The NATIONAL CENTER ON WORKFORCE AND DISABILITY/ADULT offers training, technical assistance, policy analysis, and information to improve access for all in the workforce development system.

The NATIONAL SERVICE INCLUSION PROJECT provides training and technical assistance to national and community service programs to include people with disabilities as service members and volunteers.

ICI also runs a variety of other projects focusing on the issues listed on the front of this card. These projects involve local, state, and national agencies, schools, colleges, rehabilitation providers, and multicultural organizations.
